

ABSTRACT

Polarization splitter in which reflection for the S polarization is locally centered on at least one emission peak of the image-emitting source of a micro-display or in which 5 reflection for the S polarization is locally centered on at least one peak corresponding to a wavelength selected from red, green and blue.

Application to an ophthalmic lens incorporating inserts for projecting an image towards the user.

10